To Whom It May Concern:

Ref: Thierry Clerc, Homeopathy

Thierry Clerc has been offering monthly homeopathic drops ins at our day centre for the homeless in Cambridge for over six months now. Thierry has become an important and valued member of a team that deliver services to rough sleepers and the vulnerably housed to improve and enhance well being. Thierry has taken an open and flexible approach to working with both individuals and the charity, remaining positive and hopeful in an environment that can sometimes be challenging to work in.

Thierry has offered treatment to people with a range of conditions from the most immediate of injuries, to long term pain, depression and addiction. People frequently come out of their consultations with a more positive attitude to their ailments and a definite sense that they've been heard – an important part of any therapeutic relationship. Many of the people that we work with do not necessarily stay in Cambridge for a sustained period of time. This means that they may not experience the full benefits of the treatments they received, however the impact of actually being offered treatment is clear, people are hugely impressed and thankful for the time, advice and treatment Thierry provides. It's a bit a by line but Thierry's commitment to the benefits of hydration and water drinking I know can only be a good thing when working with some who have alcohol dependencies.

All in all a great guy who has impressed our service users, volunteers and staff team a like. We would recommend Thierry to anyone seeking a comprehensive, holistic a client centred approach to their treatment.
